Now we want to know about you!

It's been such an honor to take you on the Writers of Kern Welcome Wagon Tour.

We covered all the ways we at Writers of Kern can help you meet your greatest expectations for your writing and publishing. We introduced you to the team behind Writers of Kern. And we got you and the muse together in local writing spots around town (literary matchmakers!).

But enough about us!

We want to know how we can better help you reach your writing and publishing goals.

Tell us everything you think we should know in the Writers of Kern survey over here.

The survey should take just 5-10 minutes.

And the insights and tips you share will help our team develop the right conference programs, guest speakers, workshops, classes, and everything else we wouldn't have thought of without you.

Thanks so much for your help!
